PRE-CAMP COVID TESTING

An aerial photograph of a large group of people, likely campers and staff, gathered in a grassy field. They are arranged in several long, parallel lines, possibly for a group activity or a presentation. The field is surrounded by dense green trees, and the scene is captured from a high angle, showing the layout of the group and the surrounding environment.

- Anyone not fully vaccinated (campers, leaders, staff) need to bring proof of a negative COVID PCR test within 72 hours prior of coming to camp.
- This ideally prevents the exposure to camp of someone coming with COVID.
- COVID testing can be free.
